PARSON TO PERSON

AUTHENTIC LIFE ON LIFE IN OUR GGS

ANNE CAROLYN MAE FELIPE

The word koinonia has been translated and used in many ways, denoting partnership, sharing, taking part and most commonly, fellowship. At first glance, it can refer to a mere gathering of people. This, however, is not how it was meant to be in relation to the New Testament, specifically in its usage in the book of Acts. We find in Acts 2:42-47 a description of how the early church conducted their fellowship times and groups. The passage shows us that they broke bread, prayed, shared with those in need and served together gladly! While what they did are, indeed, expressions of grace, it is good for us to know why the early church did what they did! Acts 2:42 onwards is only the result of Apostle Peter's sharing of the Gospel. As they faithfully proclaimed the gospel, those who heard turned their hearts and lives to Jesus.

Two things to highlight: the love of Christ and our love for others. The people came together because of their loving relationship with Christ. As we experience the love of God in our lives, our greatest response of worship is only to love Him with gladness and thanksgiving! Thus, we learn to live in total devotion and surrender to Him in the Word and prayer. God's kind of love searches our hearts - creating the perfect space whereby we can love and accept others in return, for only the love of God can change our hearts so we can love others despite our own uniqueness. In short, the love of Christ should bring us to the point of being burdened for those who do not know Him and have yet to experience His unconditional love. As believers who are enjoying and bearing much fruit in our relationship with Christ, we are commanded to "make disciples" (Matthew 28:19-20), as we declare and live out God's great love for us! True and genuine love from Christ is meant to be shared so that others, too, may be able to experience real life change.

True fellowship of believers is anchored on a genuine relationship with Christ, which allows us to love others, as well. And this true love that begins with Christ enables us to enjoy genuine life on life expressions on a daily basis.

May our life on life expressions glorify God everyday as we live out to be Multiplying Disciples. ✠
