THE WALK MUST PRECEDE THE WORK

EXODUS 18:1-27 | REV. DONG VILLATITO

In the previous chapters 1-17, we saw how God displayed his power and glory through the ten plagues; we saw the miraculous parting of the Red Sea that caused the whole Egyptian army to perish and sealed the freedom of the people of God. God provided protection and guidance through the pillar of cloud by day and pillar of fire by night. We also saw that despite their grumbling, God provided food and water to sustain His people, and finally, we saw how God delivered and provided victory over the Amalekites.

The preceding chapters focused on God's mighty work in the lives of his people. Chapter 18 suddenly shifted the spotlight from God's work in the lives of his people to God's mighty work in the life of his servant, Moses. It had been barely two months since Moses and the Israelites got out of Egypt and God knew that the journey and the challenges had just begun.

In order for the whole nation to overcome the challenges and reach the promised land victoriously, God had to prepare its leader.

God used and brought Jethro, Moses' father-in-law, into the scene to remind Moses of his walk that would determine the outcome of his corporate leadership. Moses' leadership over his own life would define his leadership over a nation. In this sermon, may we be reminded of the significance of who God is in our lives, what he has done, and continues to do that will help determine how we lead our lives, and the people that God has entrusted for us to lead.✳
